What is AIR?

Established in 1946, American Institutes for Research (www.AIR.org) is a nonpartisan, not-for-profit organization that conducts behavioral and social science research and delivers technical assistance domestically and internationally in health, education, and workforce productivity.

What is AIR?

Our Mission

AIR's mission is to conduct and apply the best behavioral and social science research and evaluation towards improving people's lives, with a special emphasis on the disadvantaged.

What is AIR?

Our Vision

Within the United States and internationally, AIR will be the preeminent organization that

- produces improvements in education, health, and the workforce;
- addresses the needs of individuals, organizations, and communities;
- designs and advances statistical and research methods;
- causes practitioners and organizations to adopt evidence-based practices; and
- informs public understanding and policymaking by the best evidence.
